BOULDER CITY - Boulder City Police Department is excited to announce the launch of the CITYPROTECT Crime Mapping system. CITYPROTECT is an online platform to search and view police incidents and submit anonymous tips, including photos or video. The website is www.cityprotect.com/agency/bcpd.

“Sharing this information on a map is a visual way to educate the public about where and why calls are being dispatched,” said acting City Manager Michael Mays. “The police department hopes the information will help residents be better informed about calls for service in their neighborhood.”

MEETING LOCATION:
CITY COUNCIL CHAMBER
401 CALIFORNIA AVENUE
BOULDER CITY, NV 89005

To use the map, visit www.cityprotect.com/agency/bcpd - you should find yourself on the Boulder City page.

The mapping allows you to zoom in on the map to see specific incidents and click on an icon to bring the details to the top of the list on the left side of the screen. This displays the type of crime, case number and general location. If you have information regarding the crime, click submit a tip to send information regarding this incident to the police department. The site also has the link for “Offender Watch,” the sex offender notification system.

The project took about 18 months to complete, as the City searched for a system that could best link with the current dispatch system in place. “Support Services Manager Ruby Perkins had taken this project on, and through her dogged determination and steadfastness, the department was able to get the systems to link and function,” said Boulder City Police Chief Tim Shea. “She clearly went above and beyond to make this happen. I also appreciate the hard work of Bryce Boldt (Administrative Services Director) and Ben Jurek (IT) in completing this project.”

While Boulder City is the safest town in Nevada, the additional information will make our residents better informed and help identify any problems that do occur.”
